"In the spotlight..."

The year 1976-77 proved to be quite a year for changes. It was an election year. A peanut farmer and former governor of Georgia, Jimmy Carter, won the nomination of the Democratic party and then went on to win the Presidential Election. The race between Jimmy Carter and President Ford was closer than most. The final electoral vote was Carter 297, Ford 240.

Television and movies became a means of escape for some, while others watched on, seeking only entertainment. Barbara Walters left NBC'S "Today" show for the ABC "Evening News" and a million dollar contract. "Mary Hartman, Mary Hartman" became the most talked-about new soap opera. Many television stations gave it an "X" rating and showed it late at night. And King Kong was back again, frightening New York in a new movie.

Many people stood in lines waiting to get a swine flu shot, "the cure for which there was no known disease." In the end, the Government called off the shots to see if a crippling disease, which affected more than 100 people, was related to the shots.

This was also the year of the Olympic Games. Bruce Jenner, a former student of Graceland College in Lamoni, won the Decathlon. Nadia Comaneci, a 14-year-old Rumanian gymnast, charmed the world with her excellent abilities.

Capital punishment was gradually reinstated. Gary Gilmore (convicted murderer of three people) who had been given a life sentence, decided he did not want to live out his life behind bars. After numerous attempts by human rights groups to call off his execution, the Supreme Court decided not to stand in his way. He requested death by a firing squad.

1976-77, What a year!

For the students of East High, it also proved to be a year for changes.

A new attendance policy was put into operation, one which was aimed at putting a stop to so many absences in classes.

Much was going on in school, including a complete inside paint job. Classrooms and hallways were abandoned for days during the painting.

This year we also hosted our first talent show in order to earn money for a sound system.

The Alumni Association, made up of EHS graduates, celebrated its 100th anniversary. It's the largest alumni association west of the Mississippi.

As students, we came to accept the changes and enthusiastically lived with the new fads which made this year "our year," unlike any that had ever come before.

This was the year of the wedge hair cut, Frye boots, and gauchos. Many girls were getting their ears pierced twice, and guys began collecting Farrah Fawcett posters. (Farrah Fawcett was the star of the popular television series, "Charlie's Angels.")

But through all the fads, styles, and new ideas brought on by society, we came through with our own style and spirit.

We cheered as the girls' basketball team won the sectionals and district tournaments. And even though we lost to Hoover in the substate tournament, having a winning team renewed our enthusiasm and pride in our teams and our school. And as the swimming and gymnastics team qualified for state meets, that feeling of pride became even greater.

'Times of Our Lives' theme for Homecoming

The 1976-77 Homecoming festivities centered around the theme, "Times of Our Lives."

On Friday morning a school campus dedication and flag-raising ceremony were held.

During the afternoon the Homecoming assembly was held in the boys' gym. Performances were given by the Color-Guard, Steppers, and Cheerleaders. The Pep Club and faculty presented exciting skits and gave everyone the opportunity to get involved in the performance by getting up and doing the "Hustle."

Many activities, enthusiasm fill Homecoming Week

The displaying of ribbons, mums, homeroom doors, decorated cakes, pep signs, and streamers hanging from football players' lockers were all part of the enthusiasm shown during Homecoming Week.

Friday afternoon, the Homecoming Parade, led by the Marching Scarlets, started at the school and wound through the east side, circling the capitol.

Friday night the Scarlets were defeated by North in an exciting game. The score was 7 to 0.

Homecoming festivities came to an end Saturday with a dance held in the cafeteria. Music was provided by the group, "Musar."

'Pillow Talk'.....talk, talk, talk

Once again comedy arrived at the stage. This time it was the winter play, "Pillow Talk."

The play, delayed for a month by various circumstances, was a success when it was given January 27 and January 29 in the school auditorium.

A comedy with the theme of mistaken identity, "Pillow Talk" provided plenty of entertainment and laughter for the viewing audience.

The cast, composed largely of underclassmen, was again an exceptional group of young actors and actresses.

The challenge of presenting a play was once again accepted by the student body, since over 20 students participated under the direction of the drama teacher, Mr. Waller, and assistant director Sandy Traviss, a 1976 East High graduate.

12B enchant's, excites young people

With the magical fantasy of winter, soft lighting, and accents of blue and silver, "Visions of Our Dreams" made the perfect theme for the annual formal 12B dance.

The dance was held December 23, from 8 till 11 p.m., in the Cloud Room at the airport, with music played by Van Nielson's band.

The highlight of the dance occurred when each of the 82 hostesses received a pair of wine glasses as a gift.

This year's 12B dance was one of excitement, enchantments, and dreams. The couples who attended found that at least one of their dreams could come true — the dream of attending 12B.

Through the assistance of Miss Greenhill, Mrs. Lodden, and the 82 hostesses, the 12B dance was a success.

Welcome to the 'Wonderful World of Make Believe'!

Spinster Spree is an annual dance sponsored by the Girls' Club. Reversed roles started the dance off with a boom. Girls asked the guys to escort them and then treated them to a night out on the town!

"The Wonderful World of Make Believe" was the theme. Making a repeat appearance was the band, "Last Shades of Dawn."

Carnival activities were a part of the Spree. A marriage booth, jail, fortune teller, and telegraph office added to the many highlights of the dance. Reversed roles gave the girls a chance to show their creativity because they were faced with the challenge of making boutonnieres for their guys.

Spring play brings 'Peter Rabbit'...

March 18 and 19 brought a unique type of spring play—"Peter Rabbit," by Beatrix Potter. During the two evening shows and the special matinee, young and old alike discovered, through their imagination, an exciting adventure.

Many exceptional actors and actresses, including Preshia Paulding, Leonard Wilkison, Cindy Colburn, Mike Carley, and Yvette Van Zee played their parts so exceptionally well and realistically that their audience became deeply involved in the play with them.

Effort put in by many different people was a great contribution to the success of the play. These people included: director, Ms. Gaines; student director, Kim Japhet; scenery, Mr. Waller and Miss Laird; music, Deb Christian, with special help by Kristi Japhet, a sixth grade flute player at Garton Elementary School; programs, tickets, and posters, Mr. Hiatt; publicity, Mrs. C. Davis.

The tale of "Peter Rabbit" is about four little rabbits: Flopsy, Mopsy, Cotton-Tail, and Peter, who lived with their mother underneath a very big fir tree.

One day their mother tells them to go down the lane to gather blackberries, but not to go near Mr. McGregor's garden, where at one time their father had had a terrible accident and had been put into a stew by Mrs. McGregor.

All of the rabbits were good except for Peter, who disobeyed and went into the garden, where he feasted on lettuce, French beans, and radishes before being discovered by Mr. McGregor. Peter spent most of the rest of the day being chased by the gardener until he finally escaped, although his new jacket and shoes were lost in the process.

Once home, he was put to bed by his mother, who gave him some camile tea, while the good bunnies Flopsy, Mopsy, and Cotton-Tail enjoyed bread, milk, and blackberries for supper.

With every organization, club, or committee, with all the last-minute jobs, the hassles and conflicts which sometimes come along with getting yourself involved. There have been fun and friends which have made that feeling of belonging.

Student Govt. helps create good year!

Student Government has indeed been a major artery of the activities during the 76-77 school year. They have sponsored such activities as the selling of Homecoming mums, after-game dances, Activities Day, movies such as the Marx Brothers' "Duck Soup" and the Three Stooges' "Oil's Well That Ends Well," and 20's Day.

One job of the Student Government is to boost the spirit and pride of the student body. The Student Government planned a convoy to the Valley Stadium for the big game against Dowling; over 40 cars were included in the convoy. Also, Student Government members made signs and class thermometers for the promotion of SAT's, and they participated in many assemblies.

Campaigns for Student Government offices were conducted just a bit differently this year. Instead of the traditional assembly where each candidate delivered a speech to the entire student body, the candidates set up campaign booths outside the cafeteria for two days preceding the election. This was designed to make the candidate available for personal discussion with the voters.

Mr. J. Johnson was the advisor of this year's Student Government.

Mr. Miller chooses Kiwanians on the bases of their achievements, academic progress and extra-curricular activities.

A Kiwanian of the Month is chosen for every month of the nine-month school year, but the same student represents East during September and October, so only eight Kiwanians of the Month are selected.

Students like participating in activities

Athletes who earned letters for participating in sports are members of the Letterwinners' Club. The club helped with the AAU (Amateur Athletic Union) State Basketball Tournament at East and Hoyt and set up concession stands.

Also, every year the Letterwinners sell programs at the boys' state basketball tournament at Veterans' Auditorium.

They earned $1,700 from both events. The money goes to buy raincoats for the football team.

This year a group of 29 juniors attended the U.N. Tour to Washington, D.C., and New York. The tour was educational and interesting.

While visiting New York, the group saw performances at Radio City Music Hall and the Statue of Liberty.

Synchronettes plan amazing show

Synchronettes included six girls who worked to synchronize water ballet routines. Practicing at least twice a week, the girls worked hard. After writing up their routines, the girls then worked out the routines in the water.

In order to achieve an all-around better show, the East Synchronettes have joined with the North Dolphins. East Synchronettes have therefore done all their practicing and performing at North.

On May 12 & 13, Synchronettes were to put on the performance which they had prepared for all year. This amazing show was to be to the theme of "Memories."

Accomplishments in debate have been both individual and team. As a result of these accomplishments, the team received 16 trophies as well as recognition, and ranked seventh in the state.

The team of John Keller and Greg Deitch ranked thirteenth at Little Nationals. John and Greg were also ranked as seventh in the state in debate.

Skip Shaffer was the state champion in radio broadcasting. John Keller placed first in oratory numerous times during many tournaments.

The novices, as well as the whole team, had a successful year.

On January 6, there was an inner-city practice tournament, and the state high school team tournaments were held January 5 and 6 at the YMCA.

DECA: hard-working group

DECA (Distributive Education Clubs of America) was a very active organization through the whole year. They held many fund-raising activities, such as the selling of candy and candles. They played a big part in helping to clean up the campus.

DECA members visited hospitals and participated in area and state competitions. A state-wide delegate assembly was held for two days at Ames. The members participated in an area leadership contest at Saydel, and a state contest was held at South Ridge Mall.

Many jobs for printing staff

The printing section of the Communications Media Department offered training on the same equipment that one would find in printing shops throughout the community.

Sophomores start in Communications Media, which covers four basic areas: Journalism, Photography, T.V. Production, and Printing. Mr. Hiatt, the printing instructor, is very proud of this program. "There is no other program like this in the state," he commented. "It's a lot of fun to see all of the kids working so closely together."

The juniors and seniors in printing made up the "staff." Their main job was to print the Scroll, our school newspaper. They got experience by being foremen of different jobs, as well as by being actual workers.

The Audio-Visual crew was a very important group in the "goings-on" at East. They provided two basic services.

They ran all of the sound equipment for all of the assemblies in both the auditorium and the gymnasium. They also taped various sports functions and guest speakers for playbacks at later dates.

"We function basically through the grace of other teachers letting the kids out of class," mentioned Mr. Martin, the AV Club sponsor.

All of the ads for the yearbook were sold by the salesmanship classes, under the supervision of Mr. Van Dyke and Mr. Corcoran.

They learned the technique of approaching new prospects and selling. They put these techniques into practice by going around to various businesses, trying to renew old ads and sell new ones to help defray the cost of the yearbook. This year they sold $5,500 worth of ads.

Yearbook spring delivery again

A 1976 attempt to break the tradition of spring delivery failed. The yearbook staff returned to the traditional spring delivery after the student body voted against fall delivery.

Again this year the Quill Staff went to a yearbook workshop in Iowa City. They learned some new and different ideas to give the yearbook an up-to-date and modern look.

Innovations in this year's book included the thick black line separating pictures in the senior and underclassman sections, and the unique building block effect used on the cover and division pages.

A lot of credit goes to the photographers, since the photography department plays a big part in producing a yearbook.

Scroll Newspaper 'best ever read at East High'

The East High Scroll Staff published one of the best Scrolls ever seen at East High, according to the Scroll co-editors and students. The workshop in Ames helped them improve the Scroll by adding cartoons and special headlines in sports and opinion sections.

The Scroll Staff also had a full page in the Lee Town News each week for 28 weeks. The Lee Town News page was a reprint of Scroll Stories that students thought would be of interest to the east side community.

The Saturday School page in the Register was a big success this year.

Students in the Photography Department are an integral part of the Scroll. Students took all the pictures and developed and sized them to fit the pages.

Costumes new addition to Singers

Music and costumes from the Renaissance time period were added to the Eighth Edition of Scarlet Singers. The Renaissance time period is known for its great revival of art, music, and literature in Europe during the 14th, 15th, and the 16th centuries.

Many of the Christmas carols the group used were taken from this time period. Elaborate costumes from the period were made by the group, and cost about $3,000. Selling fruit continued to be a fundraising project to help pay for these costumes.

The 36 members, the largest group of Scarlet Singers ever, performed many different shows in many different places.

"Don't Take Away the Music" was the theme for the year.

Music groups active

The A Cappella Choir has the special ability of singing to their own harmony, with no musical instrument accompaniment.

The choir put on a musical play called "The Messiah" in East's auditorium for Christmas. The orchestra also teamed up with them for this performance.

Auditions were held in the fall for East students along with auditions at junior highs with freshmen for their sophomore year.

Their formal wear was gowns and tuxedos. The membership for 1976-77 was 60 members.

Varsity Choir or "Swing Choir" stayed more at East for their performances. The choir sang many different collections of music.

A Cappella met every day and included 80 members.

Twenty-four East students auditioned for All-State. The students performed at the Hilton Coliseum. Out of the 24 students from East, 7 made it.

New singing group formed

In January, 1977, a new musical group was formed. The group, Choral Ensemble, took the place of the Chamber Choir. Unlike other music groups, this group includes only 10 students.

The students met together every Tuesday and Thursday morning at 7:30 with Mr. Carnes to practice. The students learned how to understand the different types of music and their patterns.

This was the second year for a Barbershop Quartet. There were two quartets: Quartet No. 1 and Quartet No. 2. They performed for civic, public, and private affairs and functions. They practiced before and after school and sometimes during their lunch hour.

Body movement speaks loudly

The pantomime group Silent Vibrations was a very hard-working group.

They put forward their best efforts to make their performances most enjoyable. Their mimes included skits that were funny, sad, or serious. They performed at many functions, including a Drake sorority meeting, other schools' assemblies, and an East sophomore assembly. Their sponsor, Miss Gaines, accompanied them when they performed.

The Sound and Light Crew contributed help when they were needed.

East music: tuneful sound

This year the Music Department had an all-East band festival, which included the four junior high schools that make up East. The junior highs were Goodrell, Hiatt, Wilson, and Hoyt. The four schools plus East joined on February 15 to combine their talents and play a concert.

The Stage Band was busy playing in varied concerts. Their first concert was in the East cafeteria. They played for their parents and friends. The stage band also attended two concerts, one at Coe College January 15 and another at Indianola December 4.

"Jupiter Symphony" is the name of the new music that was learned, and it was the music entered in the spring concert.

An addition to the band this year was a set of marching timbales drums, including four drums, two small and two large; they are used for marching.

2 outstanding march groups

The sound had a slow, dignified beat; it was as if they were changing the guard at Arlington National Cemetery. The Color Guard members practiced hard many long mornings to achieve this precision. It paid off well, as they were a much enjoyed addition to the pep assemblies.

Timing and rhythm were the two most important qualities that these girls needed to possess in order to be successful as Color Guard members. It was these traits combined with effective leadership of Barb Lopez and Gina Bates, that made them work together as a well oiled machine.

Another interesting group was the Majorettes. Although it was comprised of only six girls, they knew how to put on a good show. With sequined outfits and a variety of batons, ranging from the standard baton to one with a garland covered hoop attached, they twirled their way into the hearts of the students.

Keep stepping with Steppers

Many girls were filled with excitement at the end of tryouts in the spring of '76. At the beginning of the school year the Steppers came out onto the floor and put on a wonderful routine developed by Sue Johnson and Sandy McGilvrey.

They did many unusual things this year. A Stepper clinic was held at SE Polk School in the fall; several girls won ribbons for their outstanding effort and performances. Summertime practices were an integral part of the girls' lives, and striving to reach the high standards of excellence set by the co-captains. Perhaps their most exciting activity was the trip to St. Louis. Selling jewelry was a project used to raise money to pay for their transportation and lodging costs.

Their most unusual routine was one they did using flashlights. It was done in the absolute darkness of the gym and provided a nice effect.

At the end of the year the girls could still come out onto the floor and put on an excellent show, one with as much pride and enthusiasm as if it were their first.

Cheerleaders bring out spirit of student body

Cheerleaders' voices were heard loudly and clearly at all sporting events. Practicing every Friday morning helped make excellent timing and cheering.

Tryouts were held in the spring of 1976 for girls interested in becoming Cheerleaders. Many girls tried out for fun, but others tried out for the opportunity to get students more involved in school sports.

Pep Club raises enthusiasm, school spirit

Pep Club's purpose is to keep the student body peppy for all athletic events and to make students proud of East. They made signs for various sports events, and hung the signs in the halls. These were to promote spirit and enthusiasm.

They decorated all the athletes' lockers during the year for all the different sports. They held a pep breakfast and also sponsored a rollerskating party.

Meetings were held every Friday morning and there was a pep skit at every meeting.

Girls' Club keeps busy by helping others

Many activities filled the Girls' Club calendar. The club organized a skit at one of the football pep assemblies. At Thanksgiving the club made fruit baskets and delivered them to retired teachers.

Girls' Club sponsored the Mother-Daughter Tea and the annual Spinster Spree Dance. The 150 club members met every Tuesday morning.

German, Spanish Clubs busy with many activities

The German Club and Spanish Club have both been busy with activities related to their respective language.

The German Club had a German breakfast in November. For the Oktoberfest, a German fall festival, they had a hayrack ride. For the Christmas holiday, which comes a little earlier in Germany, they decorated the German room. They also sold candy for the general fund.

The Spanish Club visited Drake, where they attended a Spanish guitar concert. They also visited a Mexican restaurant and sold popcorn. For Christmas they made pinatas.

The Latin Club, Sodalitas Romana, kept busy during the year with many events. Some of these events included a play called "Rinse the blood from my Toga," the Saturnalia, the Ides of March, the Roman Banquet, the Traditional Wedding, and the state meeting of the Junior Classical League. East's Tom O'Boyle is state president of the Junior Classical League.

The French Club spent their Christmas vacation in French-speaking Quebec, Canada. They went by train and spent three days and four nights on the trip. In the spring they went to a French restaurant in Omaha.

Other activities of the club included a picnic, two hayrack rides, and a pig roast. They also did some French cooking and had guest speakers from the French-speaking parts of Switzerland and France.

Students gain through clubs

The Art Club provided students with an opportunity to go places, and to do and make things that they wouldn't have a chance to do in class. Macrame, plant holders, wall hangings, and T-shirts were made. Their annual crafts fair was one of the club's main projects. The total membership was 20 for 1976-77.

Science Club had a purpose: to help students develop additional interest in science. They gained this interest by taking many field trips, such as to Pella's Rock Quarry, the computer center at Drake, and several other interesting places.

The advisors, Mr. Peterson and Mr. Hand, met with the students two times a month. The club is open to anyone who wants to join.

PRIDE Club always active

This was the third year for Student PRIDE Club, whose main goal has always been to achieve what PRIDE stands for: Promoting the Real Image Desired at East.

The group tries hard to keep up the tradition, and this year they succeeded in many different ways. The PRIDE Club helped keep control of crowds at football games, along with selling programs and East High pennants. They also made the Homecoming float for the 1976 Homecoming game.

Mr. Hiatt has been a sponsor three years and believes that the club can help make East a school everyone can always be proud of.

Students study Bible in new One Way Club

One Way Club is new to East High. It is made up of students who are eager to learn more about the Bible. The group met before school on various mornings. Campus Life assisted and provided activities that were supplementary. The purpose of the club was to better themselves as individuals in their Christian life, and to better prepare themselves for the challenge of today's world.

Upward Bound is for students who have the potential to continue in school except for a weakness in at least one area. During the summer they spend six weeks in Pella at the Central College, where they receive special tutoring in areas of interest.

They also spend a few weekends participating in certain activities of career education.

Clubs benefit to members, asset to East

Members of the Human Relations Committee started out their busy year by buying T-shirts with the club name and their names on their backs. They sponsored an all-school assembly before the Thanksgiving break and donated $250 to the school's general fund.

Besides many visits to schools, they got a chance to see how adult Human Relations functions in an occupation when they visited Blue Cross-Blue Shield, where they visited with the company's Human Relations Committee.

Increasing understanding and creating a positive image of the Afro-American culture was one of the Afro Club's objectives. The club held three dances at Logan Elementary School and appeared in the Gateway Queen Parade. The club members met twice a month during the year.

ACADEMICS, FACULTY

SECTION EDITOR: Cindy Robbins

A line, a sketch, a piece of writing or composition, a group of numbers, a map, a historic essay or biology exam — all seem to set off an awareness of academics.

A sense of learning which is taught through tradition or brought to us by an existing need for change.

Through all the confusion, the misunderstandings and questions, we've had administrators, teachers, and counselors there to give us information, to help guide us and show us the best possible way, help us work things out, and at the same time give us encouragement and help.

Election 1976 lends diversity to Soc. Sci.

Something different? Yes, that is the Social Science Department. There seemed to be a great deal of diversity in the department and a wealth of media and tools.

Requirements for graduation included US History, government, and economics. The variety of electives apparently was attractive, as many students enjoyed a multitude of selections ranging from American Cultural Studies to Psychology.

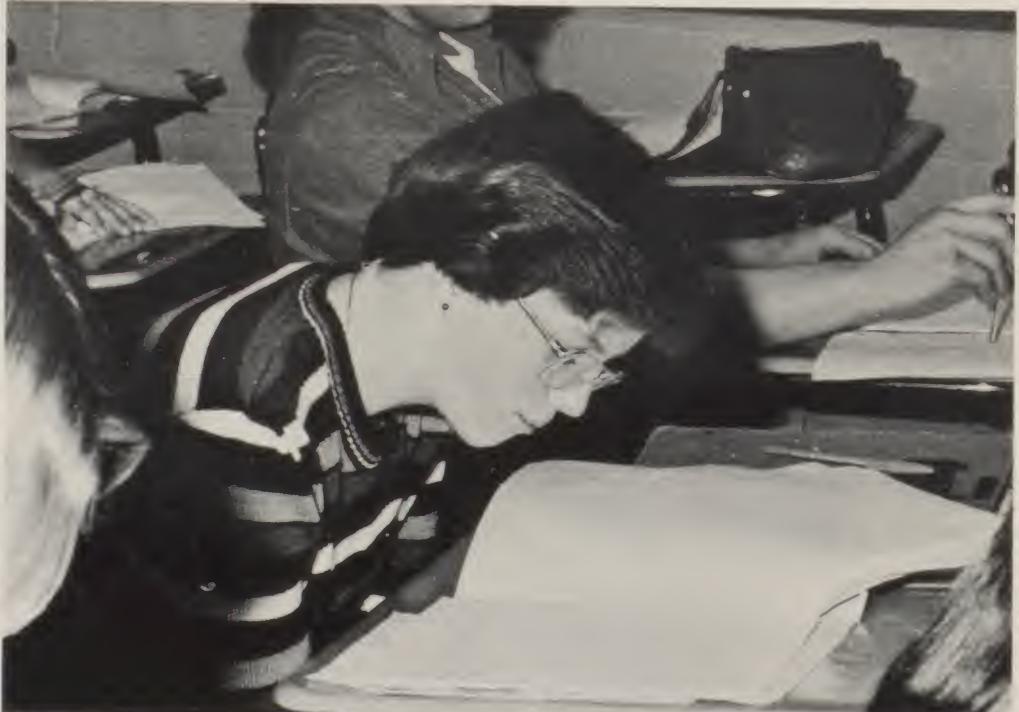

Many different methods made the department attractive to students. Some of these included team teaching, outside speakers, field trips, and independent study.

Perhaps the overwhelming results of the Election 1976 assignment highlighted the year. Students were graded proportionally to the number of hours they worked for a party or candidate of their choice.

At least 350 East students responded by working over 5,000 hours for parties and individuals seeking office.

Many classes took assorted field trips to places like the courthouse, the capitol, and the historical building.

Social Science has a challenging role: facing today's students as they educate themselves to live in a fast-changing society.

Good friends plus a small brain plus calculators equal math

Local Hy-Vee Stores offered a free calculator for every group of receipts totaling $500. Saving many receipts, the Math Department was able to obtain a dozen of these calculators.

With such a variety in subjects offered, enrollment had an increase. Students had an opportunity to take the most up-to-date classes.

Math is that difficult subject sometimes described as 10 percent inspiration and 90 percent perspiration.

With a variety of classes that included Math Lab, Advanced Algebra, Geometry, Senior Math Skills, Calculus, General Math, Algebra, Trigonometry, and Math of Finance, students had many choices.

Exploring into the unexplored makes science

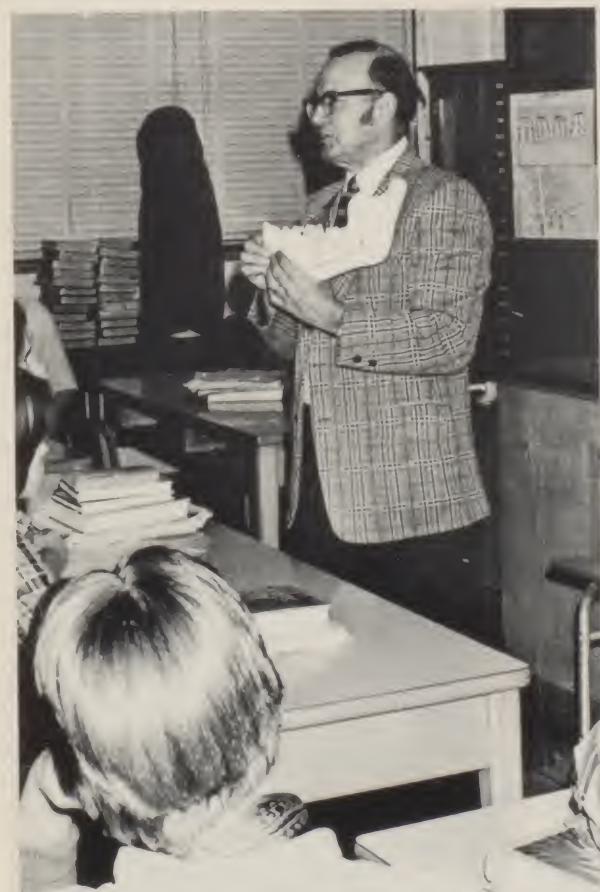

Something interesting? Yes, just look into the Science Department. There you can find a wide variety of scientific data, along with items that range from test tubes to dissected nightcrawlers.

Students were offered a wide variety of classes which included Physical Science, Chemistry, Ecology, Physiology, Nurse's Chemistry, Physics, and Biology.

Trips from various science classes to the Science Center gave the students a chance to enhance textbook knowledge.

Opportunities in science were endless, as students were given a chance to explore the many different avenues of modern science. Experimenting was made fun with the school's modern equipment.

English is ... problem solving, reading, writing, grammar ...?

English, the subject described by some as our mother tongue, and thought of by others as only grammar, is rapidly expanding.

An assortment of selections was offered, and students found variety in the English Department. A very popular class seemed to be Individualized Reading.

Sophomores may have found their English to be something different. Many sophs found themselves taking the Gates-MacGinitie Reading Test, which is designed to test reading speed and accuracy. Sophomore English was rotational and included the areas of speech, writing, reading, and problem solving. Classes rotated to a different area every nine weeks.

Some students found themselves listening to stories on a tape recorder as additional assignments to the traditional methods of study.

Creative Writing students again submitted some of their better work, along with other area high schools, to be published in a collection of various sorts of creative writing. This publication was made available to the public.

Joining the thousands across the country, the English Department at East finds itself focusing in the direction of the essentials: grammar, reading, and writing.

English, the old-fashioned subject, is trying its best to meet the needs of students. The knowledge will always be there, just waiting to be absorbed by a thirsting mind.

Students view the world of 4 languages

A variety of activities provided much excitement and color for the French, German, Latin, and Spanish classes this year.

French classes enhanced their learning with French games, films, and food. The highlight for many was a trip to French-speaking Quebec, Canada.

German classes had a real German breakfast, visited the State Historical Building and the Amana Colonies, and topped it all with a scavenger hunt.

This year Latin class engaged in a Latin initiation, Christmas celebration, and Latin wedding. Activities were not dampened, but were somewhat saddened by the fact that this is the last year Latin will be offered.

Spanish classes studied the music, literature, and culture of the Spanish people, along with pinatas, Spanish food, a concert at Drake, and a restaurant trip.

Students work on publications

Communications Media classes included four general areas of instruction. These classes were in printing, journalism, photography, and television.

In their sophomore year, students in this department were generally exposed to all four areas in a class limited to sophomores. Juniors were given instruction in one or more of these four areas. Senior students produced East's publications, primarily the newspaper and yearbook. Television production classes included all three grade levels.

While there were no prerequisites, students in journalism classes were usually selected on the basis of their grades in sophomore English.

Imagination sparks minds of our artists

Art classes provided the time and the place where students could use their imagination effectively.

Introduction to Art 03 and 04 were required of students before they could enroll in various other classes offered, such as Jewelry, Ceramics, Advanced Drawing, Advanced Painting, and two different types of printmaking classes.

Several students were able to express themselves outside the classroom. Two students received scholarships from the Des Moines Art Center, while others tried their hands at entering the Scholastic Art Awards, sponsored by Brandeis. The winners' work was displayed at the Brandeis store.

Music enhances crowd with sound of student musicians

Music filled the air with excitement as student musicians rehearsed for various performances.

A Cappella Choir and the Orchestra presented Handel's "Messiah," a Christmas program in December, along with the many other performances given throughout the year, such as the Scarlet Singers' annual spring show and many more.

Varsity and A Cappella Choirs presented shows at different junior highs around Des Moines, and Scarlet Singers made their debut on Cable TV.

The Marching Scarlet Band performed at Adventureland in September. They also tentatively planned a trip to Six Flags over Mid-America Park in St. Louis. The band played at football and basketball games held here at East.

The All-East Festival was held again, including our high school band.

And once again music filled the air.

Students gain experience while exploring vast world of business

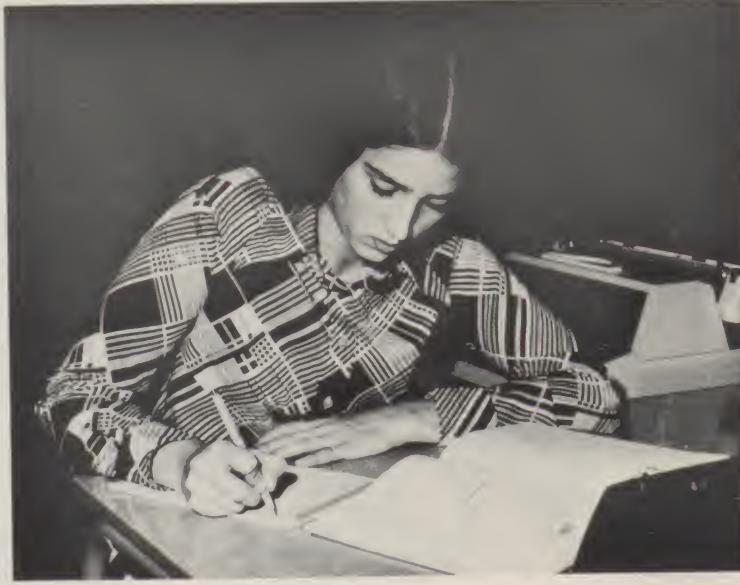

Many students took the advantage of exploring into the future by enrolling in different Business Education classes. One of the classes offered, called Business Exploration, indicated just that! Business Exploration classes were responsible for the distribution of the PTSA calendars and newsletters.

Sophomores took the basics known as typing and Business Exploration, while seniors became more involved in advanced classes, such as clerical and secretarial practice.

Sales class contributed to this year's Quill by selling ads to different businesses around Des Moines, and many of the skilled typists in the typing classes lent their services by typing for various teachers.

With the practice and training obtained in the many business classes offered, students will have a better chance at making a living for themselves.

Four programs help students

The work study program helped students on an individual basis. The sophomores remained in school with a full six-period schedule, while the juniors and seniors had a half-day schedule of classes, and a half-day work schedule.

Learning Disabilities was a class which helped students with their regular classes, and helped them build reading and math skills. The class offered assistance in finding out about different types of career opportunities for the future.

Career Laboratories Utilizing Experiences (CLUE) is a program designed to serve junior and senior high school students who have learning disabilities.

The major purposes of the project are: Vocational Exploration and Experience, Life Utilization, Skill Education, Community Education, and Participation.

The objectives include developing skills in employability, social awareness (adaptability), decision-making, career awareness, daily living competencies, educational efficiency, and leisure-time utilization.

New Horizons is a work experience program for students who are financially, educationally, and culturally disadvantaged.

The idea of the program is that young people must assume and accept responsible employment attitudes and skills in order to be achievers as adults. Proper supervision enables young people to build a measure of self-esteem and competence.

Viewing life in Home Ec

Students found many interesting things going on in the Home Economics Department. Students learned to sew their dresses for the prom, prepare a meal for their families, care for a child, and get an overall view of what home life is all about.

Mrs. Enke's Child Development Class held a preschool. This gave the students an opportunity to learn about children and their habits first hand.

A few students from the clothing classes contributed their sewing talents by making some of the costumes for the Scarlet Singers.

Foods classes were introduced to new cooking utensils and the students were assigned to an appliance and were required to set up a campaign to sell it.

Student interest in Home Economics will enable them to lead more successful lives.

Clocks, homes challenge students

Remodeling a condemned home and making and selling grandmother clocks were only a couple of the things the Industrial Arts Department has done this year.

A condemned home was chosen by students and put back to life. The home is located at 1358 Hutton. The students remodeled the inside of the home as well as the outside. They learned to put in plumbing and electricity, plus all other essentials needed to remodel the home. The students began working on the home at the beginning of the school year.

Grandmother clocks were the project for Mr. Winegar's woodworking classes. The project was created last year, and students worked on the last half of their original order. The clocks were sold at $275 and $295. Students became aware of most of the machines in woodshop, along with having the satisfaction of really doing something.

Among other classes offered were electricity, auto mechanics, metals, and mechanical drawing.

Driver Ed classes get good experience

Driver Education was a program aimed at providing instruction and experience to students entering the world of driving.

Students followed a schedule in which they alternated driving the car with simulator and class instruction. They received experience in driving under challenging conditions, such as rain and snow.

In their instruction, students were taught to drive in the city, on highways and freeways, and in emergency situations.

New variety is added to gym

Physical education classes had a new approach this year. Students were able to choose classes of their preference in areas of interest to them.

These new classes, taught by six instructors, had something of interest for everyone. The classes were given over a certain number of weeks, depending on the course chosen.

There were soccer, hockey, swimming, wrestling, and recreational games for boys only, while the girls took self-defense, swimming, speedball, and hockey classes.

Also held were co-ed classes in basketball, swimming, dancing, weight watchers, and gymnastics, along with many other courses like archery, golf, badminton, softball, volleyball, health and first aid, and winter recreational sports.

New principal has many jobs

One of the new faces this year was Mr. Miller, the new principal. The principal has many responsibilities, which include public relations, supervision of instruction, and liaison with the faculty. He is also in charge of revision of the current curriculum and its further development, so that students have an opportunity for an up-to-date education.

Student Government and all of the athletics must be controlled to some extent by the principal. As principal, Mr. Miller has very little free time, but he always has time to listen to even the smallest student complaint.

Vice-principals are important

The three vice-principals played extremely important roles in the lives of students.

Mr. Powell was chief administrator when the principal was absent, and he was also the senior class advisor.

Mr. Bagdonas was in charge of clubs and extra-curricular activities, and was junior class advisor.

Mr. McCollaugh worked on curriculum development, supervision, and teacher evaluation. He was the sophomore class advisor.

New counselor program starts

A helpful innovation was implemented in the Counseling Department this year: the Evening Counseling Program. Counselors were available on certain week nights for conferences with students and parents. This gave new opportunities to those parents and students who otherwise could not discuss problems with the counselors.

The counselors are always occupied, whether it be giving tests, counseling students, or planning schedules for future semesters. They are constantly striving to better the school and to help students with academic and personal problems.

Determination, persistence, and the will to succeed and achieve, and athletes are formed. They have the ability to exert themselves and set a goal. A goal which sometimes becomes a difficult challenge.

They try hard and aid others in their attempts toward victory and triumph.

But most important, they are willing to share their success with their teammates. For they know that working together has meant winning together.

Scarlets make All-State and All-Conference

Starting the season with 78 players, the team had only two returning offensive players, along with four returning defensive starters. With a lot of enthusiasm, and a large amount of hard work, the Scarlets developed into a team the coaches and student body were proud of.

This season, Scarlet Chico Lewis made first team All-State. Coach Charles attributes this to the fact that Chico was the most-feared receiver in the area for two years, and the fact that Chico could run with the ball as well as receive it. Chico was aided by the outstanding passing of All-Conference quarterback Steve Sandon.

There were some other accomplishments made by the Scarlets this season. Jeff Nickel made second team All-State as a linebacker. Steve Sandon made All-Metro quarterback. Making second team All-Metro were Steve Belieu at offensive guard, Keith Gates at running back, Bill Fisher as defensive tackle, and Teddy Graves as defensive back.

Soph team wins two; freshmen roll

The sophomore team was sparked by Otto Stimple and Don Reeves, who made outstanding plays even though the team, coached by Mr. Hand, ended with a 2-5 season. Their schedule included losses to Roosevelt 24-12, Hoover 14-6, Tech 26-8, Valley 26-12, and Dowling 30-8, with their wins coming against North 14-7 and Lincoln 24-12. Coach Hand commented that the Lincoln game was the best.

The freshman team, in their seven-game season, rolled up five wins with only two losses. The team was led by Randy Waters, quarterback and Mike Warren, running back, who averaged over 100 yards per game. The team scored 172 points total while giving up only 160. Their wins included North, Tech, Roosevelt, Lincoln, and Valley; they lost only to Dowling and Hoover.

Also, the team came in third in the Des Moines Soccer Tournament, out of a field of four, beating Lincoln 1-0.

Volleyball is on the move in Iowa, and East's team is a prime example; there were 22 girls out for the team. "I was pleased with our season and I feel that we have the best team in Central Iowa," said Coach Grabill. Their record was excellent proof of this; they won all their invitationals, won the Metro Crown, and had a 6-3 record in dual meets.

They failed to make it to state, winning one game, but losing the second in districts. Cindy Brun received a Special Mention on the All-State Team, and Vivienne Cooper received Honorable Mention. This was the first year that statistics for the state were compiled. East had two girls listed: Brun ranked seventh for serving, and twenty-fifth for ace serves, and Val Roberts rated fifth in spikes. As a team they were ranked eighth in spiking, eleventh in serving, and twenty-first as a defensive unit.

Dedication, hard work key assets for female harriers

Although they got off to a slow start at the beginning of the year, the girls' times soon dropped. "As the season progressed, all our times were lowered greatly," said Sue Tarr, team captain. This is a good indication of how hard and often the girls actually worked. They practiced every school day, with meets generally on Saturdays.

They ran three to four miles on Mondays and progressively less as the week went on, ending up with a half mile the day before a race.

The main drawback was the small number of girls competing for the team. As Coach Koroch said, "We had very few girls turn out this year. I'd like to see more next year."

Brown single entry in State Meet, defeats all in Metro Meet but one

The exceptional running of Brad Brown provided the spark for the cross country team. While East did not qualify as a team for the State Meet, it did send an individual runner, Brad Brown. Brown finished sixteenth in the state, with his second best time of the season.

"Brad had an outstanding year, placing second in the Metro, and winning in the Urbandale Invitational, the Roosevelt-Tech meet and the Lincoln meet," said Assistant Coach Graves. At State there was only one runner from the Metro and surrounding area that placed higher in the standings than Brown: Roosevelt's Mitch Adams finished fourteenth.

Head Coach Phipps expressed regret over the loss of the seniors, who provided the team leadership.

Rule changes: first time for District Meets

Although a few problems are always expected with a large number of runners, this team had more than their share. "This season was plagued by illnesses and injuries. We didn't have all top five running in any of the major meets." That was the comment made by Assistant Coach Graves when asked about the season. In the Karpan and Cardinal Invitational, in both of which they were expected to place extremely well, no member of the varsity squad ran, due to illness.

Their record was disappointing in terms of wins and losses, "but everyone on the team improved over last year's times and gave 100 per cent," said Assistant Coach Graves.

There were some important rule changes concerning the state meet. This was the first year that district meets were held to determine qualifiers for state. To be eligible, the team had to finish in the top six in their district, or, for an individual to compete, he had to finish within the top 10 runners.

Starting the season this year, Coach Gaeth and his team had two main goals: first, to try to qualify someone for state, and second, to urge every member of the team to do his personal best.

Coming very close to qualifying for state was Shari Walling. Doing the butterfly stroke, Shari came within a second of making it to state.

Coach Gaeth said all of the swimmers did their personal best at the Grinnell meet.

Shari Walling had a good season this year. Shari set six individual school records. She set the 100 free style, 200 free style, 100 fly, 200 individual medley, 500 free style, and 400 free relay. Shari was aided by Cyndy Fellman, Lisa Fellman, and Tammy Howard.

There was also a great accomplishment for one of the divers this season: Nancy Weiland completed a total of 11 dives. This is the largest number of dives ever to be completed by a diver from East. All-in-all, the swimming team had a good season.

Boys have best season in 9 yrs; 4 swimmers qualify for state meet

Swimming season started as usual for Coach Gaeth, but he had no idea how well the team would do. Dividing the season into three parts — conditioning, dual meets, and post-season competition, the team started at 8000 yards a day and gradually worked down. Easing up had little effect on their swimming, though, as they compiled their best record in nine years (5-5), and took first place in the Southeast Polk Invitational.

Coach Gaeth said that the team put out a good effort, breaking all 10 varsity swimming records, coming in fifth in the Metro Conference and sixth in the district (out of 10 teams), and getting four guys into state competition: Jeff Petty, Randy Greenwood, Rick Nelson, and Bruce Warner.

Three Scarlets receive All-Conference honorable mention

Despite the heartbreaking losses this year's basketball team was faced with, it proved to be an outstanding season for many individual players. Seniors Chico Lewis and Bill Fisher were the top scorers. Chico Lewis averaged 15 points a game and Bill Fisher's average was 11.3. The top rebounders were Gary Leach and Bill Fisher. Receiving All-Conference honorable mention were Chico Lewis, Mark Van Gundy, and Bill Fisher.

Coach Sutherland felt that this team played very hard all season and was proud of them. Their best playing occurred during their second game against Lincoln. Coach Sutherland attributes their losses to the fact that they had one bad quarter every game.

Seniors who played their last game for the Scarlets were Larry Long, Scott Waychoff, Bill Fisher, Chico Lewis, Mark Van Gundy, and Dean Heitkamp.

History was made in girls' basketball under the husband-wife guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Hanson. The team advanced further than had any previous girls' team at East, winning five games straight in Sectional and District action before losing a heart-breaker to Hoover in Regionals.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, in their first year of coaching at East, built up a reputation as hard-working coaches, winning five of their first seven games. Established also was a positive relationship between player and coach. On the court there was a tough, well-disciplined atmosphere. While off the court it was much different; player and coach acted as friends might, enjoying everything to its fullest.

"I was very impressed with the Metro Conference, but I would say that the Metro teams need improvement on defense to compete with most of the smaller schools," said Coach Hanson.

Forwards dominate the foe's defense

Pacing the forward court was sophomore Kari Kramme, who led the Scarlets with a 33.5-per-game point average. Close behind was Judy Forest with 25.8 points per game and Cathy Fogle with 16.4. "These three played well together; they knew each other as good friends as well as teammates, and complemented one another. They knew their roles and each girl filled hers excellently," said Coach Hanson when asked about the success of his offense.

Ranking eighth in the state for field-goal shooting was proof positive of the forward court's potency. Adding to this was an 80.3-points-per-game average compared to 69.5 for their opponents. Another of their strong points was in the area of rebounding; the team total was an amazing 738. Leading individually was Kramme, with 90. Fogle compiled 89 and Forest had 59.

It was this combination of shooting and rebounding that sparked the girls to three straight victories during Sectionals at Indianola and then to two straight in Districts at the Dowling gym. These victories put East in a position to become the first Metro team in the state tourney. But after an exciting, hard-hitting game against rival Hoover, the Scarlets were defeated by a slight five points, 80 to 85.

ABOVE: Despite a tremendous Dowling defense, senior Cathy Fogle goes in for a quick two points. East defeated Dowling, 72-70, during District play in the Dowling gym.

TOP: Flying high and hard, junior Judy Forest comes through from underneath with a hook shot to add another two points to her season total of 620.

LEFT: Concentration etched into her face, senior Cathy Fogle pumps in a 15-foot jump shot against Clarke (Osceola) in Sectional play.

Great starters, depth equal victories

The guard court gave our team "good support this year; Vivienne Cooper, Diane Cameron, and Terri Pfundheller were our most consistent players," said Coach Hanson. Those three girls combined for a total of 87 interceptions during their 24-game season. As a team they amassed 474 rebounds; accounting for over half of these were juniors Tami Love and Joan Green, who pulled down 113 rebounds apiece.

An unusual aspect of the defense was that three of the top guards were forwards last year. This conversion was made primarily to form a stronger defense and give the girls more of a chance to play. Though they were a little unfamiliar with their new positions, "they became stronger toward the end of the year and improved greatly in the areas of bringing the ball up the court efficiently and stopping their opponents' drives toward the basket," commented Coach Hanson.

Depth from the bench came mostly from Denise Cameron, with a 2.8-per-game interception average, and Connie Conklin, with an average of three rebounds per game.

Good starters and consistent help from the bench made for a much-improved and extremely effective defensive unit, which helped make for a winning season.

RIGHT: Sophomore Diane Cameron and junior Tami Love dominate their Dowling forward with some excellent defensive double-teaming. Junior Joan Green keeps her position, guarding the basket from any unexpected play.

Strength, speed in guards intimidate all opposition

Sophs combine talent with action, resulting in well balanced season

"Dedicated and determined" described the boys' sophomore basketball team. Coach Hall was pleased with the team; however, he felt that the potential talent was greater than that displayed during the season.

Some games were "runaways," some were "just games," and others were heartbreakers as the sophomores pushed on.

Sophomore girls team have 13-5 season, clinch tie for metro title

A well balanced defense and a good offense led by Kim Halsey and Teresa Satterfield led the girls' sophomore basketball team to a tie for the Metro title with a record of 13-5. They did not clinch the tie until the final game of the season when, with three seconds left, the offense scored and they beat Valley 57-55.

Coach Brand commented that it was a good season, considering the fact that three sophomores started for the varsity team.

Three Scarlets participate in district competition

The '76-'77 wrestling team put forth a tremendous amount of effort. More important than the team scoring or the season outcome was what each of the individual wrestlers gained and learned from each meet.

One of the problems this year's team encountered was that so many of the seniors were injured most of the season. Coach Lutz felt that the sophomore wrestlers made tremendous progress.

Roosevelt and Carroll Kuemper proved to be the best meet for the wrestlers. No one qualified for State, but there were some individual accomplishments in the Districts. Jeff Nickel placed third, and Steve Belieu and Larry Pratt captured fourth place.

Twenty-nine wrestlers finished the season, with all but nine of them wrestling varsity at least once during the season.

Gymnasts take 6th in state, win seven of nine dual meets

The gymnastics team, led by Cindy Adamson, Karen Baker, Theresa Burns, and Debbie Ohlander, did very well this season, winning seven out of nine dual meets. Their best meet was against Roosevelt, even though they lost 167.50 to 156.55.

In district competition, the first step to the state meet, the team took third. Several of the girls placed, but most impressive was Cindy Adamson, who took sixth in the all-around competition.

In regionals, the girls did great, with the team taking third and Cindy Adamson again taking sixth in all-around competition.

Iowa had 51 schools competing in girls' gymnastics, and in the state tournament our team, showing a great effort, ended up ranked sixth in the state.

Sprints, relays overpowering

"This group of young men is quite possibly the best team I've had the privilege to coach," said Head Coach Graves. Their performances in meets already held is strong proof of this.

At the State Indoor Federation meet three medals were brought home: Russ Stiles won the 50-yard dash, Kirk McCormick took fourth in the 50-yard high hurdles, and the medley relay unit of Stiles, Lloyd Rowland, Stan Hinshaw and Jeff McClaskey captured sixth place.

The next meet the team participated in was the Dickinson Relays at Cedar Falls, where there were over 2,000 athletes representing almost 150 teams. Again the team ran well, taking eighth place in the two-mile relay, with Claude Frazier, Carl Fogle, Doug Keller, and Brad Brown. Stiles sprinted to a sixth place finish in the 50-yard dash, and the medley relay unit captured a gold medal in a UNI-Dome High School record time of 3.40.61. They had broken the record in their preliminary heat on Friday and then came back Saturday to better their own record.

When asked how it felt to be coach of such outstanding runners, Coach Graves replied, "I wish I had more ... just wish I had more."

Coach Graves added, "We're having a good season, and I'm very pleased with our progress.

Good balance helps girls' team to score

Although there were fewer girls competing for East, the team had better balance than any previous year. Instead of a few standouts, their ability was spread out over a wide array of events. These included the sprint relays, their two senior hurdlers Ronda McCuen and Laura Bagley, and miler Sue Tarr.

This was Coach Koroch's fourth year of coaching the girls. Previously, he was the boys' cross country coach, but when the girls' job opened up he took it because it gave him a chance to help girls' athletics.

Enthusiasm tops tennis season

Yes, tennis season arrived annually, and now, as in every other year, it has passed by. Going into the season, Coach Thompson was very enthusiastic because over 30 boys came out for the team. Four returning lettermen, Kent Dalrymple, Dave Dearden, Jim Frey, and Jeff Petty, led the way for East.

With new tennis courts at Williams Stadium, the team was somewhat improved.

New courts spark interest; 24 girls go out

Last summer, the new tennis courts were completed, and they have sparked great interest in the girls' tennis program. There were 24 girls out for the team, 16 of them new members. At press time, Coach Knott felt that this year's team would be much improved over last year's, and that the new courts would be a big factor in helping the team improve. The American Field Service (AFS) Club had a new sponsor this year. Mrs. Funk, creative writing teacher, took over the sponsorship of the American Field Service Club, which is responsible for the Foreign Student Exchange Program.

The president of this year's club was Joni Crawford. The group met about once a month to plan and gather ideas. The AFS Club collected for a penny fund every Wednesday morning during homeroom. This money is used to help the foreign exchange students financially. All of the AFS Clubs throughout the state also met at the Annual Manifest Weekend.

Senior Jim Weiss thinks about Election Day while looking a voting machine over.

The year 1976-77 was a big school year for many people, touched off by such activities as Homecoming, assemblies, 12-B, school plays, sports, and the Prom. But it was also a big year for the seniors at East High. Their graduation year finally came, and a lot of those far-off dreams were coming true. "Becoming 18," "legal," "of age," and "voting age" were former expressions that are now reality.

UNDERCLASSMEN

SECTION EDITOR: Mike Turpin

Students intent and eager to question, to seek, to belong, to form and to be formed, move forward.

They ponder the oncoming years. Their steps are taken slowly, through many hours of smiles, tears, considerations, and thoughts. It seems as if they have so far to go! They look forward to next year with the anticipation that that's where living will begin.

Entering as strangers, they have become contributors and are now preparing to emerge as leaders.

Juniors climb to greater heights

When the new junior class first came to school in the fall, they remembered the Bicentennial year and vowed to make this year even greater.

Registration this year was not the chore it was last year. We experienced juniors just breezed through.

During the first assembly we really became a part of East High. Some fulfilled dreams by becoming Cheerleaders, Steppers, and Colorguard members.

School became more serious for most juniors because they're half way through "Dear East High" and college or vocational school awaits many.

They remember the first expenses of the Junior-Senior Prom, dating, and owning their own cars.

Our junior year: expenses, sorrow, joys, and FUN.

RIGHT: Junior class officers for 1976: Genell Phillips, (secretary), Dave Childers, (president), Buddy Bellis, (vice-president), Kari Evans, (treasurer).

Juniors always find time to relax

The junior year was a year to remember: to think about what we did, said, and were doing during our years at East.

There was a time for ball games, assemblies, and so many other activities.

It certainly was rough when we had to get ready for our finals, and then had the long wait for our report cards. For some it was joy, and for others it was sorrow.

But most of all, we remember the good times and good friends that really make East High. We remember the spirit and the PRIDE we all had in our school. These memories will always keep alive those things that we strived so hard to accomplish.

As a busy day goes on, juniors Renee Bayte and Jeff Carpenter find a quiet time together.

Student Center arouses sophs' interests

ABOVE: Sophomore Randy McGee breaks the monotony of a routine school day with an aggressive game of foosball. In this series of pictures Randy shows the skill and concentration it takes to master the game of foosball.

Sophomores surprise everyone with their very strange doings

Throughout the years in high school, you, as sophomores, will see and experience many things. You have a lot ahead of you. Your years in high school should be fun and challenging.

Sophomores made their first year fun as they tried to train their pet rocks to climb up stairs, jump, and heel. Succeeding at that gave the sophomores a feeling of accomplishment. Making a week through school without tripping on the stairs also gave them this feeling.

New classes and new faces present the challenge in the sophomores' year. They are now at a school three times larger than any other they attended. Making new friends was an exciting challenge. They also met new teachers and most students observed different techniques of teaching.

Open campus lunches were also new to them. In the cafeteria students had a wide variety of food to choose from: hot and cold lunches and a la carte meals. Challenges were tough, but the sophomores were tougher.

Sophomores stand out in any crowd

Walking through the front hall, one could find some befuddled sophomores searching for the tile that was supposed to be different from all the other tiles.

Sophomores were told that ancient Greek Theory ("a building should never be perfect") was responsible for the different tile, but they suspected it was the work of upperclassmen.

Initiation of sophomores is a tradition among upperclassmen. Seniors tried to take advantage of sophomores in many other ways: selling elevator tickets for an invisible elevator and showing lost sophomores the wrong way to their classes were examples. As sophomores pulled through these many trials, some looked forward to their turn at these evil doings. Juniors, though, planned new schemes for next year's sophs.

Sophomores Ron Utley, Rob Rhinehart, and Sandy Ulmer are looking for the misplaced tile in the front hall, a tradition among new students.

Last Reflections...

Another year has come and gone. For some, this is it — the end of their schooling. No more homeroom, pep assemblies, fire drills, or released time first hour. For others, high school is just a beginning. But for us all, it will be a year not easily forgotten.

Lasting friendships were made. Ideas were shared. Thoughts were exchanged with interest.

New classes were taken and the latest concepts were taught and learned.

We have gained a better understanding of life and of others, for it was here that we voiced our opinions both in approval and opposition.

It was a year of rebuilding, a time for renewed spirit.

And looking back, our last reflections are ones of contentment, for we know that this year was only one block in the building of our lives.

Go Where? You're Kidding!

Now wait a minute . . . we're not kidding. We are dead serious about your future college plans. Drake University offers special advantages for Des Moines students.

Come to Drake and live on campus. Think about the advantages . . . on your own but close enough to home for "emergencies" like borrowing the car or replenishing the bank account at a moment's notice. Think about the advantage you have over the out-of-towners who don't know the ins-and-outs of your hometown.

Think about the many educational advantages at Drake, too. At Drake we have six undergraduate colleges and schools with over 103 major areas of study to choose from. And when your college days are over, we'll even do all we can to get you a job. That's how much our students mean to us.

There's a lot more happening between Forest and University than you realize. Stop by and let's talk about your future. Or, if you're in a hurry, call us at 271-3181.

Go where? Go to Drake, that's where. So, who's kidding!

The Marines
don't want
a lot of recruits-

We're looking for a few good men.

If everybody could be a Marine, we wouldn't be the Marines.

For almost two hundred years, we've kept our standards high and our ranks small.

Today it is harder than ever to be a Marine. We're a tough club to join, a tough team to make. And that's exactly the way we're going to keep it.

We want quality, not quantity.

We want men who are proud of their Country and want to serve it proudly.

We want men who seek a challenge and aren't afraid of tough physical training.

We want men who believe that while nobody likes to fight, somebody has to know how.

We want men who want to become part of an elite force of extraordinary men.

We want good men — and then we make them better.

If you have finished high school but haven't finished with learning...

Or if you are a college man who is ready for leadership and responsibility...

If you've got it and you want to stand with the Marines, you'll be welcome.

We train our men the way we've always trained them. No compromises. No shortcuts. No promises except one: You'll be a Marine.

One of the few, and one of the finest.

Insulation is nice to have around the house

Insulation is one of those things most people take for granted. But with the cost of energy going up, making sure your home is properly insulated is one of the most important things you can do to conserve energy and save money at the same time.

As part of Younkers firm belief in the young people of today, a program is offered each year for the Des Moines area schools ... TEEN BOARD for junior and senior girls and ADVISORY BOARD for junior and senior boys. These young people selected to represent their schools, are chosen for leadership qualities, high scholastic standings, personal recommendations from school administrators and evaluation from members of the retiring boards, plus their ability and interest in retail and fashion. They participate in special fashion shows during the year, give talks in their schools and to other groups on good grooming, publish a monthly newsletter and work in various junior departments each Saturday. Younkers salutes the representatives from EAST HIGH SCHOOL for a job very well done.

Scott Waychoff, Debbie Geisinger.
